Answers for grown-ups

Print at 100% on A4. Colour first, then talk about the question.

Read one question aloud. Let your child guess, colour and wonder. There is no need to finish every page at once.

1. Does a reindeer's eye shine change colour with the seasons?

Yes. A reflective layer inside the eye is golden in summer and blue in winter.

2. What colour is a polar bear's skin?

Black. Adult polar bears have black skin underneath fur that looks white.

3. Do penguins have knees?

Yes. A penguin's leg has a thigh, a knee and a shin like yours. The top part is tucked up inside its feathery body, so you only see a short leg.

4. What helps an Arctic fox stay warm?

A thick fur coat and special blood circulation in its paws help protect it from the cold.

5. Can an owl see behind its back?

An owl can turn its head far around to look behind. Its eyes cannot move freely in their sockets.

6. Can a walrus walk with its teeth?

Sort of. A walrus digs its long tusks, which are giant teeth, into the ice to pull itself out of the water. Its scientific name means “tooth walker”.

Answers for grown-ups

Print at 100% on A4. Colour first, then talk about the question.

7. Why does a snowshoe hare have such big back feet?

Its broad, furry back feet help spread its weight on soft snow.

8. Can a puffin fly and swim?

Yes. Puffins flap their wings in the air and use them to swim underwater.

9. What keeps a muskox warm?

A thick coat, including a soft undercoat, helps keep a muskox warm.

10. Does a male moose keep the same antlers forever?

No. A male moose sheds its antlers and grows a new pair each year.

11. What colour is a young harp seal pup's fluffy coat?

White. Young pups have a fluffy white coat before their first moult.

12. Why does a squirrel hide food?

Many squirrels store food so they can find something to eat later, including in winter.
